

RISE WITH DOGS · A PROGRAM OF OKOYA OCI LLC

College Partnership Overview

A turnkey non-credit certificate in dog-assisted social-emotional learning, under your college's name.

OKOYA delivers curriculum and instruction in animal-assisted, social-emotional practice as an outside provider under your college's continuing-education brand. A July 2026 mapping of the US market found no college offering beginner-to-practitioner formation in dog-assisted social-emotional learning. Your catalog can be the first to answer that demand — without building a program.

THE VENDOR MODEL — HOW YOUR PEERS ALREADY RUN IT

1 • THE COLLEGE

Lists the course in its CE catalog, enrolls students, collects tuition. The program carries your college's name and certificate.

2 • OKOYA

Delivers the curriculum and instruction, with an instructor-qualification framework behind every course. Content, teaching, and student review are OKOYA's responsibility.

3 • SETTLEMENT

OKOYA invoices the college. Students have no payment relationship with OKOYA. Commercial terms are agreed per program.

PRECEDENT — THIS MODEL ALREADY WORKS

- Beit Berl College (Israel) partnered with Offek Center — the professional college founded by OKOYA's founder — on a therapeutic dog-training program for educators, delivered alongside its B.Ed and M.Ed degrees.
- Aims Community College (CO) runs a Professional Dog Trainer CE certificate designed and taught by an outside expert trainer.
- Cape Fear Community College (NC) launched an assistance-dog training program with outside partner paws4people (2025).
- University of Tennessee, Knoxville offers a partner-delivered Canine Fitness Trainer certificate through its professional-education center.

THE FOUNDER — OMRI LIVNY

Head of Animal-Assisted Intervention at the Wingate Institute, Israel's national institute for sport; founder of Offek Center, a government-approved private professional college; co-founder of a treatment center serving 3,000+ patients, including veteran PTSD programs.

REGULATORY STATUS

- College-hosted delivery operates under your institution's existing authority as an exempt college.
- Student refund policy drafted to Colorado §23-64-120 standards.
- OKOYA's own DPOS Certificate of Approval application is in preparation — the regulatory homework is done.

THE OFFER

- The full practitioner program: a career-formation certificate in dog-assisted social-emotional learning — twelve months of online study with an in-person Colorado intensive. First in the US market.
- Delivered under your college's CE brand from day one — ready for immediate launch.
- Curriculum review, instructor file, and program documentation available on request.
